What is Community Information Exchange (CIE)?

Community Information Exchange (CIE) builds the human, organizational, and technological capacities to help people get the right resources they need when they them.

- CIE enables communities to shift from a reactive approach to addressing social needs to an approach that is more proactive, holistic and person-centered.

Social Care Data Governance Evolution: FY25 Priorities

Social Care Data Governance Workgroup developed initial governance recommendations by topic area:

CIE Governance Council
Over the next two fiscal years, the Governance Council will establish itself and three subcommittees.

- Subcommittee recommendations align with peer states and anticipated CIE certification priorities

Privacy and Consent Guidance
Initial guidance will be co-designed with local/regional leaders to move toward a standardized consent process.

Security Standards Guidance
Initial guidance will be complemented by DTMB resources and capacity building.

Data Exchange Guidance
Initial regulatory landscape assessment will be continued through the MiTAHIE Planning Project.
